Our Journey

'Yatra' is the Sanskrit word for pilgrimage. A yatra is a pilgrimage which offers an opportunity to explore dharma teachings and pathways to awakening whilst hiking through wild and pristine landscapes of our stunning natural world.

On a yatra we cultivate supportive conditions to investigate our relationship to self, others and our environment in order to deepen our sense of interconnection. The program will provide a flexible combination of silent periods for yoga, meditation, and reflective walking (wandering), as well as time for facilitated exercises, workshops, group circles, and artistic expression. The variety of practices will draw from deep ecology, traditional dharma teachings, nature wisdom, science, eco-psychotherapy and tribal traditions.

Our first yatra in New Zealand will follow the wandering trails of the renowned Abel Tasman National Park, situated in the northwest of the South Island between Golden Bay and Tasman Bay, about 1 hour drive from Nelson.

The park displays native coastal forests of kanuka (tea tree), beech and kahikatea, with a lush tree fern understory, including many native birds like the kaka (forest parrot), weka (flightless bird), tui and ruru (morepork). The impressive coast with its picturesque bays is home to dolphins, fur seals and blue penguins. Initially our route will take us inland on remote mountain trails, past native forests and tranquil creeks and then along the breathtaking coastline with its sandy beaches, turquoise lagoons and rocky headlands. Amongst the highlights of this journey are the Harwood Hole (183 meter deep sinkhole), the Anahata Yoga Retreat, the Tui Community, Taupo Point (first landing of Europeans) and the golden sands of Totaranui.

Please note that the route of this yatra includes a couple of 25km long and strenuous sections which lead over steep mountain terrain, requiring a solid level of fitness.

Accommodation will mostly be in our personal tents. The final two nights we stay at the 'Ngarata' homestead at Totaranui, which provides simple dorm accommodation and hot showers. An accompanying cook will take care of our meals which will all be vegetarian. A support vehicle will transport participant camping gear from site to site. The Yatra will require active support from the participants with kitchen duties, fire, water, equipment and setting up/packing down the camps.
Facilitators

Ronny Hickel has studied, practiced and taught in various traditions of yoga, and buddhist dharma for the last 25 years. He is a yoga and taichi instructor, a qualified outdoor recreation guide and has trained in Hakomi Psychotherapy. Originally from Austria, Ronny moved to Australia in 2000 after living in India and South East Asia for numerous years. His approach is shaped by his love and passion for the wilderness, nature connection, deep ecology and the rich spiritual traditions of the world, from tribal cultures to modern science. He now resides in the Tweed Caldera in Australia where he works in personal development and outdoor recreation, facilitating meditation, yoga and tai-chi classes, nature reconnection retreats, MenAware gatherings and yatras.

Inna Alex grew up in Germany and has been living at Tui Community, Golden Bay, New Zealand, for the past 12 years. She has trained in Environmental Management, Permaculture Design and Hatha-Yoga. Inna aims for a wholesome and connected lifestyle by sharing her energy through permaculture education, facilitating deep ecology events, teaching yoga, living actively in intentional community, parenting her daughter and tending her garden. She has been practicing deep ecology with Joanna Macy in 2009 and John Seed in 2017, and has facilitated workshops in NZ, Australia and the UK for the past 9 years. Inna is passionate about diving deeply into this work to build supportive and resilient community and to explore how we access and sustain our internal motivation and capacities to contribute to the healing of our world.

The retreat will be conducted under the shelter of ethical principles, which create a safe, caring and conscious environment for spiritual practice. On the retreat the precepts invite us to restrain from harmful speech and actions, sexual expression and intoxicants. Certain periods on the retreat will be in silence. The meditation instructions are mainly based on the Buddhist mindfulness traditions, the yoga exercises are suitable for beginners and are designed to support our process during our pilgrimage.
